

Dominion KX101 Local Port Cable LVC-101 (option)

Description

LVC-101 is an orderable cable option for DKX101 which provides local video access to the target server. The LVC-101 cable connects directly to the target server and local video monitor, providing local video functionality. Local mouse and keyboard may be obtained by connecting these devices directly into the target server.

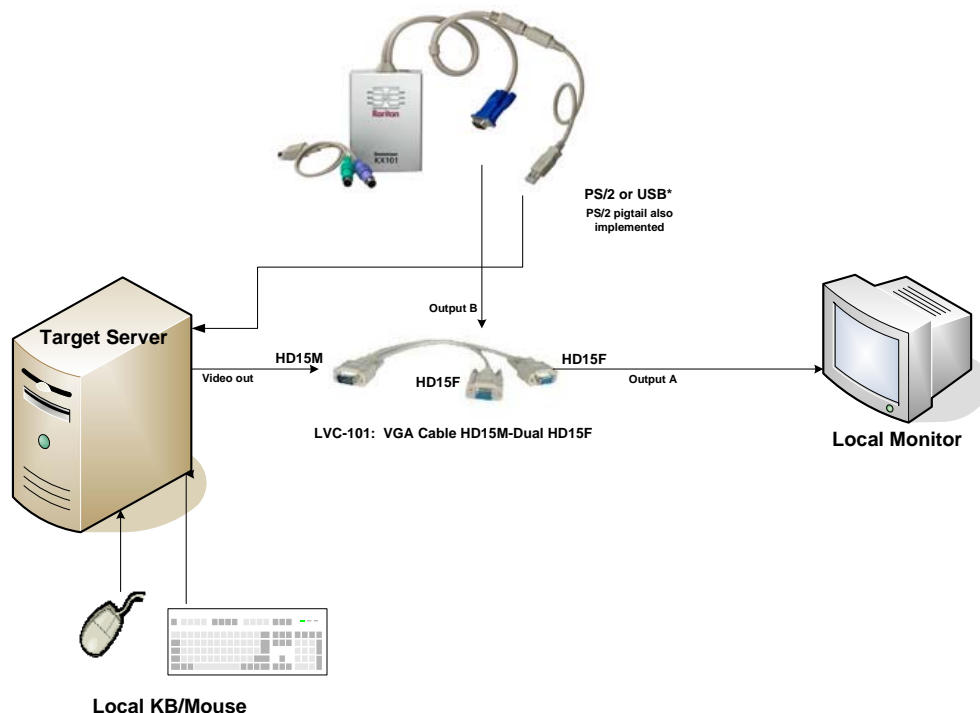

Technical Notes and Limitations

Video quality may depend on the type of monitor used for local access. Some types of digital monitors, such as the ViewSonic VX2000 LCD monitor, may display distorted video at the local connection. If you experience distorted video, connect another monitor before contacting technical support. Also, 1600x1200@60HZ is not a supported resolution on the LVC-101 cable. Refer to the KX101 User Guide for additional resolutions which are supported on KX101.

Connections and Settings

The LVC-101 comes equipped with one HD15M connector, and 2 HD15F connectors, one labeled OUTPUT A, the second labeled OUTPUT B. Connect the HD15M connector into the Video Out port on the target server. Connect the OUTPUT B HD15F connector to the HD15M connector on the KX101. Connect the OUTPUT A HD15F connector to the local monitor.
